

Social Security Expansion Bill Okayed By House

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to open the social security rolls to almost 10 million more Americans, increase the benefits and boost the tax take was passed overwhelmingly by the House yesterday. The rollcall vote was 355-8.

Now the big expansion measure goes to the Senate for final congressional action.

It embodies most of President Eisenhower's social security recommendations and is designed to make 75 per cent of the nation's old folks eligible for benefits by 1960. An estimated 47 per cent of the population is covered now.

Mine Workers Reject Offer By Company

LANSFORD (AP)—Rank and file Panther Valley miners yesterday ignored recommendations of their union officials and refused to return to work under a condition that they put in longer hours.

A general mine committee, representing more than 5,000 miners, idled for a month by a shutdown order of the Lehigh Navigation Coal Co., demanded that John J. Lewis, United Mine Workers president, personally enter the dispute. "We won't go back to work tomorrow," said Chairman John Robin. "The men are against the conditions of the company plan. They say it is a violation of the union contract."

THE COAL COMPANY said it would, nevertheless, schedule work for today at seven mines and three coal preparation plants in Lansford, Tamaqua and Coaldale under a plan pegged to a "work-longer-hours" theme.

Robin, immediately after yesterday's session, wired Lewis an invitation to attend a general mass meeting of the Panther Valley miners, at a date to be set to meet his convenience.

Action at the two-hour mine committee session came despite a request by Thomas J. Kennedy, international UMW vice president, that the men enter the pits today as asked by the company.

Military Talks Slated Today

GENEVA (AP)—The Geneva conference on Indochina achieved the relatively small success yesterday of arranging a meeting between military leaders of the antagonists here today.

But in the broad political view the peace effort was still tied in a tight knot.

The diplomats from East and West will go into their 14th session on Indochina today minus apart on the question of supervising the hoped-for cease-fire in the long, Asian jungle war.

The military talks will be between Gen. Henri Deltell of the French command in Indochina and Ta Quang Buu, Vietnamese vice minister of defense. At the same time the political wrangle will be resumed by the foreign ministers.

Vietminh Driven Back Six Miles From Key Point

HANOI, INDOCHINA (AP)—French tanks, artillery, infantry and planes yesterday drove Vietminh troops six miles back from Phu Ly, key road junction 30 miles south of Hanoi, French Army headquarters announced.

The Red-led rebels fled in sampans and junks across the Day River to seek protection in the limestone hills as French B26s pounded them with 1,000-pound high explosive bombs.

French armored units reported killing 24 fleeing Vietminh.

Injured Soldier Reaches Fairbanks In USAF Plane

FAIRBANKS, ALASKA (AP)—A battered Brooklyn soldier, still strapped to the small sled used in his rescue from Mt. McKinley, split his bushy beard with a feeble grin and winked a blackened eye as he was unloaded from an Air Force plane here yesterday.

Pfc. George Argus, 25, was unable to talk because of sedatives given to kill the pain of his badly injured hip, hurt in a fall over a 1,000-foot precipice May 16.

He was only semi-conscious but managed the grin that showed a gap in his upper front teeth.

Members of the flight crew that brought Argus here after his daring evacuation by helicopter in the Arctic twilight said he mumbled over and over: "Oh, it's good to be off that mountain."

Ex-President Indicted

NEW YORK (AP)—Carlos Prío Socarras, former president of Cuba, and 16 others were charged in federal indictments yesterday with conspiring to export war materials from the United States to Cuba in violation of the Neutrality Act.

Board Bars Oppenheimer From Atom Secrets

WASHINGTON (AP)—A special security board has voted 2-1 to bar Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer of atomic bomb fame from further access to the nation's atomic secrets.

The board, it was disclosed last night, reached the conclusion that the physicist, who had scientific charge of the creation of the first atomic bomb, is "a loyal citizen" but is nevertheless a security risk.

FOR ONE THING, it said, he was an active traveler of the Communists at one time and showed "poor judgment in continuing some of his past associations into the present."

AN ESTIMATED 3,600,000 farmers would become eligible for social security under the expanded system, as well as about 3,500,000 state and municipal employees, a large group of professional people, clergymen and others not covered now.

The legislation also provides for a minimum boost of $5 a month in benefit payments, larger annual contributions, or taxes, by many employees and employers, and more liberal provisions for old folks who want to continue work after their payments start.

Drafted by the House Ways and Means Committee, the bill was thrown open to brief debate under a rule barring any amendments. Thus the House was limited to voting for or against the bill in its entirety.

Some members thought the changes in the 17½-year-old social security plan didn't go far enough.

ONE MAJOR provision would raise from $3,600 a year to $4,200 the maximum wage on which both benefits and taxes are based. This would mean an additional contribution of $12 annually by each covered worker earning $4,200 or more and a similar payment by his employer. The current tax rate for both is 2 per cent.

Democrats on the Ways and Means Committee tried unsuccessfully to boost the ceiling to $4,800, while some Republicans objected to any increase.

About six million Americans are now receiving social security payments. The bill aims to increase minimum monthly payments from $25 to $30 and maximum monthly payments from $85 to $98.50. These increases would go into effect two months after the bill becomes law.

MOST OF THE other changes would become operative next Jan. 1.

For covered workers not yet retired, the maximum monthly benefit in the future would rise from $85 to $108.50. The top for a retired worker and his wife, if she is over 65, would jump from $127.50 to $162.75.

Existing law cuts off persons already retired from benefits for any month in which they earn more than $75 in covered employment. But the new provisions would allow them to earn at least $1,000 from covered or uncovered employment. Above that, they would lose one month's benefits for each month in which they earned more than $80.

Allegheny Airlines Seeking Summer Stop At Mt. Pocono

ALLEGHENY AIRLINES is seeking a summer service permit which would allow it to stop at Mount Pocono Airport, East Stroudsburg Borough Council learned last night.

The information came to council through Burgess Jesse S. Flory, who received a copy of the airline's application to the Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington, D. C. Burgess and mayors of all towns involved received similar copies.

The airline describes the stop as "Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg."

UNDER A PRESENT CAB ruling, an Allegheny commercial flight is allowed to make only four intermediate stops during one flight from Cleveland to New York City, and only two intermediate stops on a flight between Bradford, Pa., and New York City.

The airline has asked CAB for an exemption from the ruling. The airline wants to be able to make six stops on the Cleveland-New York flight, and three stops on the Bradford-New York flight. In each case, one of the stops would be the summertime stop at Mount Pocono Airport.

ON A FLIGHT from Cleveland these stops would be made, according to a map supplied by the airline: Cleveland, Erie, Jamestown, Bradford, Williamsport, Scranton (and Wilkes-Barre), Stroudsburg (Mount Pocono), New York.

Council was advised that no action was required of it.

Montana Reports June 1 Snow At High Elevations

HELENA, MONT. (AP)—June opened in Montana with snow at higher elevations yesterday, snarling heavier truck traffic atop MacDonald Pass out of Helena.

Montana's Highway Department reported several large trucks were astride the cross-country U. S. Highway 10 atop the Continental Divide several hours. Cars crawled through if they had tire chains.

Snow also was reported on Lookout Pass, on the Montana-Idaho border, but traffic went through.

For another, it held that his past opposition to all-out research on the hydrogen bomb delayed, in effect, a concerted attempt to make such a weapon. Thus, it said, the "security interests of the United States were affected."

The board's findings and recommendations were dated May 27 and addressed to Atomic Energy Commission general manager K. D. Nichols.

THEY WERE MADE public yesterday by Herbert S. Marks, a lawyer for Dr. Oppenheimer. Marks also made public a letter to Nichols from Lloyd K. Garrison, Oppenheimer's chief counsel, in which an appeal was made to have the case reviewed immediately by the Atomic Energy Commission.

The findings made public last night are in the form of recommendations to the AEC, which will make the final decision.

Gordon Gray, former secretary of the Army and now president of the University of North Carolina, voted with Thomas A. Morgan, former president of the Sperry Corp., to recommend that Oppenheimer's security clearance not be reinstated.

THE THIRD member of the special board, chemistry Prof. Ward V. Evans of Loyola University of Chicago, filed a dissenting opinion in which he said Oppenheimer had been cleared of the same charges in 1947. He added: "Our failure to clear Dr. Oppenheimer will be a black mark on the escutcheon of our country."

Evans said, among other things, that Oppenheimer "did not hinder the development of the hydrogen bomb."

THE MAJORITY recommendation signed by Gray and Morgan said "particular attention was paid to the question of his loyalty."

"We have come to a clear conclusion, which should be reassuring to the people of this country, that he is a loyal citizen," they added.

"If this were the only consideration, therefore, we would recommend that the reinstatement of his clearance would not be a danger to the common defense and

Housing Area Classification Turned Down

TOBYHANNA — For the third time in almost two years the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency has turned down the designation of Coolbaugh Township as a critical defense housing area.

The latest refusal came in a letter to Rep. Francis E. Walter dated May 21. Walter, congressman from this 15th Congressional District, advised Irvin C. Foster, secretary of the township supervisors, of the denial, and added "I frankly feel that this report is not completely honest, as there are obviously many flaws in the enclosed statement."

The statement, referred to by Walter was a two-page document signed by Al Cole, Housing and Home Finance Agency administrator.

LAST NIGHT Foster said the denial is on the same basis as those made after two previous appeals by Coolbaugh Township supervisors, and directed through Walter. "The Army hasn't felt yet that there is a demand for housing here," Foster said. Two other requests for classification were made in July, 1952 and November, 1952.

In his letter Cole points out that a survey has been completed "and the findings clearly indicate that there have been no significant changes in recent months in labor and in-migration requirements for the Tobyhanna Signal Corps Depot to warrant reversal of our previously reached conclusion that this area does not meet the criteria for designation as a critical defense housing area."

FOSTER said when the first survey was made, mid-summer of 1952, he was contacted by a federal government official for facts on housing. "But this time no one came here, nor did they talk to any member of the supervisors board," Foster added.

According to Cole's letter the presently projected civilian employment of the depot is considerably less than the 3,000-5,000 reported in Walters letter dated April 28, 1954. "In fact," Cole said, "the depot command reported that the peak employment anticipated by Jan. 1, 1955 is some 25 per cent less than forecast at the time construction on this installation was started."

"Furthermore," Cole continues, "the status of the training activity, involving a large number of uniformed personnel, originally scheduled for this installation, now appears to be rather uncertain."

COLE POINTS out in his letter to Walter that the Tobyhanna depot will consolidate and amalgamate Signal Corps activities which had been assigned three other installations.

The housing administrator claims the depot commanding officer has stated only three per cent of the total employment in two of these installations have accepted transfer to Tobyhanna. The third depot, located at Dundalk, Md., he says, has "no firm information available as to the number expected to accept transfer, but present indications are that not more than 10 per cent of permanent status employees may be willing to make the move."

Milton Berle's Mother Succumbs

NEW YORK (AP)—The greatest fan comedian Milton Berle ever had—his mother—died last Monday night.

"She was my inspiration, my life," he said as, haggard with grief, he landed by plane from California just before noon yesterday. "Since I was five, she plugged for me. She was my backbone."

A stroke killed Mrs. Sandra Berle in her Central Park South apartment at the age of 77.

Flanders Charges McCarthy Uses Hitler-Like Tactics That Divide, Confuse Nation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) yesterday accused Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) of Hitler-like tactics which, the Vermont senator said, have sown division and confusion in the nation, besmirched responsible government, and created "foreboding" among such minorities as the Jews.

McCarthy replied by charging Flanders with a "vicious" attempt to inject racial issues into the hunt for Communists.

Flanders, raking McCarthy in a Senate floor speech, took the position that McCarthy's actions have aided the Communists' divide-and-conquer drive.

"Were the junior senator from Wisconsin in the pay of the Communists, he could not have done a better job for them," Flanders said.

THE 73-YEAR-OLD Vermont senator, now in his eighth year in the Senate, also raised the question whether Roy M. Cohn, chief counsel of the McCarthy subcommittee, has some kind of hold on McCarthy to influence his actions. Flanders also asked why Cohn showed "an almost passionate anxiety" to retain G. David Schine as a collaborator on the staff of the McCarthy committee.

Flanders said the Senate subcommittee now investigating McCarthy's dispute with Army officials has not yet "dug into the real heart of the mystery." That mystery, he said, "concerns the personal relationships of the Army private, the staff assistant (Cohn), and the senator (McCarthy)."

THAT BROUGHT from McCarthy a demand that Flanders be called before the subcommittee as a witness, put under oath, and asked to tell "what that mystery is." At one point he suggested that Flanders be subpoenaed, but he withdrew the suggestion.

Tornadoes Lash Two Areas Of Western Pennsylvania; Winds Hit Other Sections

STORMS WHICH STATE police described as tornadoes hit two isolated communities in western Pennsylvania last night and high winds lashed several other sections.

The storms came only few hours after the Weather Bureau at Pittsburgh and Harrisburg issued special tornado warnings.

At least three persons were slightly injured, two had narrow escapes as crashing trees hit their cars and property damage totaled thousands of dollars.

Most of the damage occurred in western and central Pennsylvania. The Weather Bureau cancelled the warnings shortly before midnight.

SPOKESMEN SAID the storms, as they moved east toward Philadelphia, apparently were losing their punch.

The hit and miss storms did the most damage in Butler and Mercer Counties.

The high winds were accompanied by torrential-like rains. Telephone and electrical service were disrupted in some sections for hours as trees fell on wires.

The first tornado-like storm hit the farm of F. L. Vincent near Grove City in Mercer County. Vincent's 8-room frame house was moved about 12 feet from its foundation. Windows and household furnishings were badly damaged.

MRS. VINCENT and her grown son, Cecil, were thrown across the dining room floor. They suffered slight bruises.

Another small tornado-like storm struck Oakland Twp., northeast of Butler. No injuries were reported but the high winds damaged two homes, demolished a barn and damaged the parish house and garage of the North Oakland Church. Power poles and trees felled by high winds blocked a highway.

High winds accompanied by torrential rain caused considerable damage in some sections of the Pittsburgh district. The storm was accompanied by lightning and, in some places, hail.

THE HEAVIEST DAMAGE was in North Braddock, Swissvale, Forest Hills and McKeesport.

A severe storm also hit Altoona and Hollidaysburg.

A violent thunderstorm hit State College with hail stones up to a half inch in diameter and gusts of wind about 60 miles per hour.

Welch Clashes With McCarthy Over Papers

By Ed Creagh

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army side fired a new challenge yesterday at the honesty of an exhibit by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.). McCarthy denounced the challenge as "dishonest" and proposed that all principals in his dispute with Army officials submit to lie detector tests.

Joseph N. Welch, counsel to the Pentagon officials, voiced "deepest suspicions about the genuineness" of 11 memoranda submitted as the work of McCarthy aides Roy M. Cohn and Francis P. Carr.

WELCH ASKED that an independent expert on documents be called in to pass on these memos, which Cohn said were dictated by himself and Carr at various times between last Oct. 2 and March 11.

The memos recited what the McCarthy camp terms improper attempts by the Army to use Pvt. G. David Schine as a hostage to induce the McCarthy investigating subcommittee to call off its probe of alleged Communists in the Army.

ALTHOUGH WELCH did not say so, he evidently was attempting to show that the documents were not "spot memos" dictated at the time of the alleged improper Army actions, but were prepared in a bunch after the Army accused McCarthy and aides of pressure tactics to obtain preferential treatment for Schine.

However, Welch withdrew his request for an expert to examine the documents, after Ray Jenkins, special counsel to the Senate investigations subcommittee, told him the FBI already has advised that such an examination would not disclose whether the memos were typed at the time they were dated or later.

"IF THERE is a riddle," Welch said, "it was wrapped in an enigma, and we won't be able to solve it."

Welch uttered his challenge in cross-examination of McCarthy's personal secretary, Mrs. Mary Driscoll, a peppery brown-haired woman who said she undoubtedly typed the documents on the dates stated—although she said she had "no independent recollection" of having typed any of them.

McCarthy accused Welch of "browbeating" the blue-eyed Mrs. Driscoll and of attributing perjury to her. He demanded Welch take the stand and tell under oath whether he had "one iota of evidence" the memoranda weren't exactly what they purported to be.

THEN THE Wisconsin senator urged lie detector tests for all the key figures—himself, Secretary of the Army Steven G. Cohn and Army Counselor John G. Adams. And he volunteered to take the test first.

"In that way," McCarthy said, his voice rising, "Maybe we can end this whole hassle in 24 hours—instead of 24 days."

Nobody took him up on the lie detector proposal.

McCarthy made this same proposal before the hearings opened. It won no acceptance then, either.

THIS WAS the third time since the televised hearings began that

Civic Group Gives Reports On Activities

PORTERS LAKE — A covered dish supper at Porters Township School last week served as the final spring gathering for the township Civic Improvement Association.

Over 40 persons attended with William Meehleib, president, serving as toastmaster. Annual reports included Elizabeth Arnst's announcement of the March of Dimes campaign netted $62.60; Helen Young's report on the Red Cross drive, $94 and Cancer Crusade, $30.

Anniversary Night will be observed when the association reconvenes in September. Former members will be invited to the annual affair. A card party also is being planned for sometime in July.

NAMED TO THE committee are Marge Clark, Arch Bush, William Bradshaw, Meehleib and H. A. Foreman.

William Bradshaw, of Pine Flats Association, announced facilities of his association were available to the improvement league.

Winners of door prizes, donated by Mrs. Emma Buck, were Bush and Kathy Weil. Other winners were Ronnie Smith, Mrs. M. Goodwin, Mrs. J. Ostrander, Mrs. Elie Kratzer, Mrs. H. A. Dillon, Bush, Clyde Raitt, Mrs. William Wagner and Mrs. Irene Foreman.

Christ Church Taking Part In Campaign

LOCAL Episcopalians of Christ Church, N. Seventh St., Stroudsburg, are being asked this Spring to support Builders For Christ campaign for major repairs, new buildings and necessary equipment in vital areas of the church at home and in the mission field.

A goal of $4,150,000 has been set by the church's administrative body, the National Council, to meet these urgent capital requirements.

Members of Christ Church will climax their campaign on Whit-sunday, June 6, with a church-wide pledge.

FOREMOST among the capital requirements are the needs of the eleven Episcopal seminaries for additional student dormitories, library expansions, and faculty housing, to help meet the increased demands for seminary enrollment. A sum of $2,000,000 will go to these schools for improvement of existing facilities.

To reinforce Christianity's bulwark against Communism in Japan, $625,000 will be sent to that country for the reconstruction of war-torn churches and schools. Additional sums will be used for school and church building needs in the Philippines, in Puerto Rico and in areas of increasing population in the United States.

Leveling Off Of Industrial Decline Noted

STATE COLLEGE (AP) — The Pennsylvania State University's bureau of business research reported yesterday industrial activity continued to decline in Pennsylvania during April but that there was evidence it might be leveling off.

The bureau said the decline has been steady since last July. But from March to April, the decline was only one per cent.

The figure for April is the lowest for that month since 1950. The bureau's index has fallen 19 points or 16 per cent from that of a year ago.

The index of industrial activity, which uses the years of 1947-49 as 100, stood at 101 during April.

THE FIRST annual Salvation Army advisory board dinner meeting will be held Thursday at 6:30 p.m. at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

President Judge Fred W. Davis, head of the board, will be in charge of the meeting. Main speaker will be Senior Captain Russell Wheeler, Salvation Army Citadel director in Wilkes-Barre. Capt. Wheeler's topic will be "Behind the Street Meeting."

Hai H. Harris and Jesse S. Flory, burgesses of Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg, will welcome the board members and guests. Music will be provided by Vivian Amhurst, Stroudsburg.

The local Salvation Army chapter will give its annual report at the dinner meeting. Reservations may be made by calling Capt. Charles Baker at Stroudsburg 849.

Mrs. Archibald Services Held

FUNERAL services for Mrs. Kate D. Archibald were held at 2 p.m. yesterday in William H. Clark funeral home.

Rev. Roger C. Stinson officiated. Interment was made in Stroudsburg Cemetery. Pallbearers were Franklin Clifton, Arthur Henning, Vernon Imbt, Charles Overpeck, Frank Quinlan and Irvin Smith.

"Good Labor Relations"

Part of the announcement that Ronson Corp. will concentrate its cigarette lighter production in East Stroudsburg and close its much older Newark operation underscored the fact that the company enjoyed "good labor relations" at its East Stroudsburg plants.

In sharp contrast, the report disclosed that Local 589 (United Auto Workers-CIO) which operated at the Newark plant had its charter revoked, thereby cancelling the labor agreement between Ronson and the union.

UAW executive board said in connection with the revocation of the charter that local officers had been guilty of "racketeering and unethical practices concerning the misuse of local funds." Local officers denied this charge as a "frame-up."

Fact remains that the UAW executives revoked the local's charter.

There are many other facets to the decision to concentrate Ronsons' lighter production in East Stroudsburg, including a charge by Louis V. Aronson, II, Ronson president that "wildcat strikes during the past year" hurt the company.

Employees at Ronson's East Stroudsburg operations are members of International Association of Machinists (A. F. of L.).

To this group Mr. Aronson paid a very significant compliment when he said the company enjoyed "good labor relations" in East Stroudsburg.

There is not the slightest doubt that labor unions are here to stay. But how well they serve their purpose, depends on a fair, honest administration of their affairs, and fair, honest, mature relations with management of the firm with which they are affiliated.

And, of course, these factors apply to management. They cannot exist as a "one-way street."

The Ronson story is the classic example. Some 550 persons are out of work in Newark. The work they did will come here to provide a sound, continuing employment factor to local people.

That's the reason we feel the "meat" of this story is Louis V. Aronson's statement that Ronson enjoys "good labor relations" here. For the good of Ronson, its employees and this community may that condition long prevail.

Detour Signs Down

The detour signs affecting Route 90 through Cresco come down yesterday pursuant to an appeal from Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau.

Lee B. Marks, Lebanon contractor building the new overpass and approaches thereto at Cresco, filled his part of the bargain by rushing work on 1,000 feet of roadway for an opening Saturday noon.

The Daily Record, which campaigned vigorously for an elimination of the unnecessary detour, wishes to compliment Marks and his men for fulfilling their promise so effectively.

We'd like to add that in our belief this whole matter was avoidable. And to guard against repetition, we'd like to suggest that some agency here subscribe to State Highway construction bulletins, or arrange a closer liaison with the department so adequate detours can be arranged, when necessary, before a road project starts.

Robert S. Allen Reports

French Want AF Mechanics To Remain In Indo-China

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower has to make a new decision on the several hundred Air Force technicians in Red-menaced Indo-China. He must determine whether to let them remain there several more months. The French have officially requested that.

They say the mechanics they are training won't be available until late summer. Pending these replacements, the French are urgently pleading for retention of the Americans. Their withdrawal, it is claimed would mean the speedy grounding of scores of desperately-needed bombers and fighter planes.

The work of these technicians is a key factor in maintaining French air effectiveness in the ominous Indo-China struggle.

Two factors are involved in the decision facing the President. One is the general belief in Congress that the airman would be relieved around the middle of this month. This view is based on statements made at the time they were rushed to the war zone.

Senator Everett Saltonstall (R., Mass.), chairman of the Armed Services Committee and White House spokesman, gave such assurances to congressional critics.

There is a possibility the latter may challenge extending the stay of the technicians in view of the intensifying Red offensive.

That question relates directly to the second factor—the safety of the Americans. General Nathan Twining, Air Chief of Staff, is talking bluntly about that in inner Pentagon councils.

Twining did not favor sending the maintenance crews to Indo-China in the first place. The President did that on the recommendation of Admiral Arthur Radford. The head of the Joint Chiefs of Staff is also supporting the new French plea and has advised the President to grant it.

Twining is vigorously urging the French be required to send strong reinforcements to the gravely-periled Red River delta area. He holds that adequate protection of the U. S. airman be made a condition for their retention. There have been a number of intelligence reports that the Americans are a special Communist target.

The fate of the rich delta region is very much in doubt. Large portions of the "rice bowl," as it is known, already are in Red hands and the French are steadily pulling back in order to shorten their lines and strengthen their defenses.

Admiral Radford contends the U. S. servicemen are in no real danger. Also, that they can be flown to safety within a few hours if that becomes necessary.

NOTE: The Joint Chiefs are deliberating what should be done about continuing the large flow of arms and munitions to the desperately embattled French. Since last winter, shipments of U. S. planes, tanks, guns, shells and other combat supplies have totaled upwards of 30,000 tons a month. The State Department is vehemently warning that a reduction at this time would undermine the French both in Indo-China and at the Geneva Conference.

Supreme Court Decision In Orloff Case Should Have Been Applied Re: Peress

IN ALL THE discussion of the Peress case little has been made of the decision of the United States Supreme Court in the case, Orloff v. Willoughby, in which the Court held that the granting of a commission to a doctor was entirely within the discretion of the President of the United States and those acting under his authority.

The case was decided on March 9, 1953 and could have been a guide to the Army in the matter of Major Irving Peress, over the disposition of which the McCarthy-Stevens Hearings are being held.

Stanley J. Orloff is a physician who was lawfully inducted into the Army under the doctor-dentist draft. Orloff was not given the specialized duties nor the commissioned rank to which he claimed to be entitled. Orloff, like Peress, was put into the Army under the Universal Military Training and Service Act which authorizes the conscription of certain medical and allied specialist categories. Orloff made the point that he could only be inducted as a doctor and that if the Army did not choose to use him as such, he ought to be released from any military duty.

He swore out a writ of habeas corpus against Colonel Rex E. Willoughby, Commandant of Fort Lawton, Seattle, Washington.

The Court stated, in a decision written by Justice Robert Jackson: "This petitioner refused information as to his membership in or association with organizations designated by the Attorney General as subversive or which advocated overthrow of the Government by force and violence. He gave as his reason that 'as a matter of conscience, I object to filling out the loyalty certificates because it involves an inquisition into my personal beliefs and views. Moreover, the inquiry into organizational affiliations employs the principle of guilt by association, to which I am vigorously opposed. Further, it is my understanding that all the organizations were listed by the Attorney General without notice or hearing which has caused the Supreme Court to invalidate it.'"

This is exactly the same situation as the Peress case, but it was handled differently. I quote further from the decision of the Court: "As to the question 'Are you now or have you ever been a member of the Communist Party, U.S.A. or any Communist Organization?' He (Orloff) said, 'Federal constitutional privilege is claimed.'"

Further the Court said: "The petitioner appears to be under the misconception that a commission is not only a matter of right, but is to be had upon his own terms."

The Army had the Orloff v. Willoughby decision before it when the Peress case arose and became an issue between the Army and the McCarthy Committee. The Army could have used the decision in Orloff v. Willoughby.

It that Vivien is thoroughly disgusted with men. I don't know the reason why, because she is a rather attractive person, but men must have something that causes revulsion and disgust within her.

And, strangely enough, she is partly right.

We men HAVE made an awful mess of things. Yet, when one looks at the record, there is very little our women legislators (the few we have) have done to make things better.

I still believe, in my old-fashioned way, that woman can be most effective as the power behind the throne, the power that first of all makes men out of boys, and secondly makes the kind of men out of boys who are capable of running our government and running it right.

One of the things Vivien overlooks is that Nature has taken pretty good care of who is to be who in this world. I'd hate to have a man for a wife. There never would be a decent meal on the table. There never would be a button on my shirt. My socks would be full of holes, the beds would never be made.

IF ALL the mothers of America brought up their sons according to the teachings of their own parents and by the standards of old-fashioned religion and the old-fashioned virtues, those same mothers would not need to be in the White House or in Congress.

It isn't where you are, it's who and what you are that counts.

What good is a broom like that?"

The clerk, his patience at an end, murmured, "Madam, why don't you try flying on it?"

My New York

—by Mel Heimer

NEW YORK—Things one New Yorker thinks about:

Well—what is the matter with me, anyway? Here on my desk is a letter from Pat Butler, associate producer of Dick Aldrich's Falmouth playhouse up on Cape Cod, telling me she's holding a reserved seat for me for the July 3 opening of the Helen Hayes festival up at the Cape. Miss Hayes is going to do James Barrie's What Every Woman Knows, and I love Barrie—yet Miss Butler's message inspires in me no longing to go and see Hayes. I never have appreciated Miss Hayes' wispy, skiffy but, somehow to be wrong, everyone says she is America's greatest actress. Maybe I should travel up to the Cape and give her another chance to convince me.

THERE ARE many, many people in this city to whom I mean to get around, one day, and among the first will be the fierce-looking little cobbler with the tiny shop in 54th street who has in his window walnut trees, a mango tree and orange, lemon and lime trees...

As a man who tried for years to think up a baseball game acceptable for the general market, I was pleased to receive today one called "Line Drive," which enables any shrewd grandstand manager like myself to work his wiles. Along with it, from Harvey Orkin, comes a challenge from 12-year-old Joe Dovi of the Boys' Club of New York "who will play you for money, marbles or chalk." I will meditate that invitation.

THE BREATHTAKING word today is that Parisian dress designer Schiaparelli is going to introduce a line of men's pajamas and underwear in New York around mid-July. That is one fashion show I must see. I want to see the male model who can look nonchalant while modeling underwear...

A Brooklyn salami company reports to me it is plugging the combination of wine and salami, suggesting such delicacies as a glass of wine with a slice of salami, a la lemon peel; salami and fried pineapple cooked in wine sauce, and for breakfast, salami and eggs fried in wine sauce. Whaaaat?

A CONTINENTAL atmosphere—that means everyone sits down and does nothing and genteely argues politics—is in evidence these days in West 56th street at a place called the Coffee Mill. They serve 18 different varieties of coffee, ranging from the famous Italian cappuccino—hot milk, cinnamon and whipped cream—to Australian coffee foam, which includes eggs, milk, syrup and coffee, mixed and served cold. Now, if I only liked coffee...

I am patiently awaiting the first visit to New York or Eleonora Rossi Drago, the blond Italian actress, who recently said she liked her bad-girl role in Sensualita "because it does a woman good to pretend she's had every once in a while." My opening words to her, naturally, just have to be "Let's pretend."

LUNCHEON pleasantly at Dinty Moore's the other day with Tony Randall, the young actor who is Harvey Westcott on the Mr. Peepers TV show, and took the opportunity to peek over at an adjoining table where Wally Cox was being interviewed. Never saw a man so unhappily restless in my life. He looked as if he wanted to be home pasting his 1913 vermilion Liechtenstein four-peso stamp in his album...

For amusement, I have been trying to remember my most memorable moments in New York and I think the top one came when I was leaving a poker game in the Wellington hotel at 4 a. m., and across an arway from the elevator bank, I saw a beautiful blonde sitting on a bed, a natural, smoking a big black cigar.

ANOTHER one I mean to catch up with is Belle Levy, the grandmother who runs the Colonial Detective service, which she founded here in town 25 years ago. Daughter of a police detective lieutenant, Belle once remained out in a 24-hour blizzard in order to trap some smugglers in the garment district...

Two good books at hand: Lillian Roth's I'll Cry Tomorrow, and Ted Peckham's Grandma Rolled Her Own. I will take all credit or blame for Ted's book. He's the online escort-service operator whose writing career I like to think I started. He's well along the sinful road now and will soon have another book out, dealing with the escort bureau.

Ronson Corp. Plant To Recall 125 Furloughed Employees

Warehouse To Be Used As Factory

RONSON CORP., of Pennsylvania will call back 125 employees now laid off; "there will be increased employment" and the firm's Spruce St. warehouse in East Stroudsburg will be converted to a factory and other warehouse space will be sought.

That was the crux of the statement to The Daily Record yesterday by J. Herbert Stoner, general manager of the East Stroudsburg Ronson operations.

Stoner said he couldn't elaborate on "increased employment" until it was determined how plant facilities would be set up in East Stroudsburg. "But certain phases of production," Stoner said, "will be moved to East Stroudsburg from the Newark, N. J. plants."

CONTACTED IN the main office at Newark where a weekend disclosure told of Ronson Corp. transferring cigarette lighter production to East Stroudsburg, Stoner said the workers currently laid off "will be called back just as quickly as we can move machinery to East Stroudsburg and set it up for operation."

The East Stroudsburg plant currently employs about 650 persons. The Spruce St. warehouse contains about 10,000 or 11,000 square feet of floor space, Stoner said.

Announcement of the Newark plant shutdown came from Louis V. Aaronson II, president of the company. He said the decision "was forced upon the company by local economic conditions which have made profitable operations impossible. The problem has been further complicated by the revocation of the charter of Local 589 (United Auto Workers-CIO) and the cancellation of our labor agreement."

THE NEWARK plant issued dismissal notices to 550 employees Saturday night by telephone and telegram. The company will retain its executive offices, research facilities and two divisions—air products and flint—at Newark, with a force of about 350.

A few key supervisory personnel from Newark will be asked to join the East Stroudsburg operations, Stoner said earlier. He said this was motivated by the "expanded operations" which he clarified yesterday in the announcement of increased plant facilities and "increased employment."

Store To Build Parking Lot For 75 Cars In East Borough

A 75-CAR PARKING LOT will be built by the A&P behind its present S. Courtland St. store, East Stroudsburg council was told last night.

Two company representatives showed councilmen a plan for the lot and explained a pick-up station to be installed at the Courtland St. end of the entrance alley.

The alley into the lot will pass between the store and East Stroudsburg Methodist Church. It will be both entrance and exit alley, about 20 feet wide.

Another entrance and exit will be on Day St. A turnover of 30 to 40 cars an hour is expected, council was told. Customers will make their purchases, then drive their cars to the Courtland St. entrance of the alley. There the groceries will be placed in the car at the pick-up station by an attendant.

ON REQUEST, council granted the company a month from the time the lot is completed in which to prove that using the alley for both entrance and exit would not be hazardous nor interfere with traffic flow. Cars emerging from the alley will be permitted to make right turns only.

The lot is expected to be in operation before July. The company said it plans the same sort of lot and pick-up station at the Mount Pocono A&P, where cars will emerge onto Route 611 from the lot.

Stroudsburg Septic Tank Co. was awarded a contract for concrete pipe in sizes ranging from 12 to 48 inches in diameter, with prices varying from $1.50 to $13.45; R. D. Wood Co. won the contract for water pipe at $2.65 a foot for eight inch pipe—a penny cheaper than the other bidder.

BIDS WERE received on two graders—$7,350 from the Mehl Blumberg Co. of New Holstein, Wis., and at $9,500 from the Galion Co. of Ohio.

Council asked and got agreement to hold the bids open for 30 days so that members would be able to study the specifications of the graders and see both in operation. Decision will be made at the next council meeting.

Gilbert St. was adopted as a borough street after council heard a petition from a majority of the residents there. The petition and rights of way were brought in by Gerald Heckman, a resident.

FUND BALANCES were reported as: general $26,960.42; water $22,718.06; highway $1,199.22; parking meter $1,003.18.

Burgess Flory reported a statement by an auditor who completed periodic inspection of the borough police force books in May: "The police records here are the best-kept in the State for a borough of this size," said the auditor.

East Borough May Purchase Gregory's Pond

PURCHASE OF Gregory's Ice Pond as a major step in solving borough drainage problems was approved in principle last night by East Stroudsburg Council.

Councilman Elton P. Hall moved to have two independent appraisals made of the 9.6-acre property under consideration. The pond is located along the Franklin Hill Road, a short distance east of N. Courtland St.

No other action was taken on the pond, but as a related drainage step council moved to advertise for bids for storm sewer pipe to drain the west end of the borough. This job was estimated at $12,000 by engineer Edward C. Hess.

Hess said the pond would be drained of most of its water. In the event of heavy rain, the water would run into the pond instead of overflowing borough streets and ditches.

Hess ESTIMATED the pond had a 10-million-gallon capacity. With an exceptionally heavy rainfall of three inches a day, it would be six days before the pond was full, he figured.

"I think it would solve '95 per cent of our drainage problem," said Hess. The other five per cent lies in keeping the present open drainage ditches cleaned out and usable.

The pond would drain a 400-acre area, Hess said.

The storm sewer job at the other end of the borough would empty on Starbird Run, and would require about 600 feet of drain pipe, mostly 42-inch size.

Sen. McCarthy Bars Names

The Army side has questioned McCarthy evidence. One previous instance was the senator's use of a cropped photograph. The other was an alleged letter from FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

McCarthy denied any lack of faith in either instance. He charged in turn that the Army made up a dishonest chart to show the absence of Schine, former McCarthy aide, from Ft. Dix, N. J. The Army side insisted there was nothing wrong with its chart.

The argument over the Cohn-Carr memoranda, introduced as proof of the McCarthy camp's charges, was the second squabble of the day.

IN THE first one Cohn produced a big box of documents in response to a call for evidence that Schine really did work for the McCarthy subcommittee when he was given time off from Ft. Dix.

McCarthy refused to let this heap of material go into evidence, however, until he had made sure

County's Oldest Resident, Mrs. Kate J. Sittler, Dies Week After 100th Birthday

MOUNT POCONO—Mrs. Kate J. Sittler died at her home here at 10:15 a. m. Monday, just one week after her 100th birthday. Dr. James G. Kitchen II, Pocono Lake, president-elect of Monroe County Medical Society presented Mrs. Sittler with a certificate from the medical group on Saturday, May 22. The award cited her as the oldest woman in Monroe County.

Mrs. Kate J. Sittler

Born in Rothrockville, Pa., she was a daughter of the late David and Catherine Frack Gross. She married the late George B. Sittler in 1889.

MRS. SITTLER lived in Kutztown from 1926 until 1952, then moved here with her son, George D. Sittler. She was the oldest member of Trinity Lutheran Church, Kutztown.

Surviving in addition to her son George is another son John, of New Tripoli. Her husband and three children preceded her in death. Also surviving are seven grandchildren, 35 great grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Friday in the Fritz and Kendall funeral home, Kutztown. Interment will be in a Kutztown cemetery.

Mental Health Workshop Slated Today, Thursday

ALAN D. REYNOLDS, secretary of welfare, and Dr. Russell Teague, secretary of health, will extend greetings at the first mental health workshop for public health nurses, to be held in Scranton today and Thursday.

Recognition of the strategic place of the nurse in the total mental health program has led the Department of Health and the Department of Welfare to co-sponsor this first workshop in Public Health Region I.

Mr. Reynolds said "Mental health activities are integrated in the daily practice of nurses in schools, industry, hospitals and in homes, so that this initial workshop will provide an opportunity to explore new possibilities for promoting mental health."

The committee on arrangements includes Mrs. Beatrice Bullock, R.N., Wayne County, and Mrs. Anne Shafer, R.N., Monroe County.

Court Procedure To Be Discussed

HARRISBURG (AP)—Means of streamlining the commonwealth's court procedure and management will be outlined at the 59th annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Bar Assn. at Spring Lake, N. J., June 21-24.

Mrs. Barbara Lutz, executive secretary of the PBA, said the meeting is part of the association's campaign to eliminate "waste motion, the useless technicalities of procedure, unnecessary delays and needless expense."

She estimated some 800 Pennsylvania attorneys and their families will attend the meeting.

The consul general and his wife vacationed at Skyline last October.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

We've crossed over the bridge to Summer, all right, and most people have the beginnings of a Summer tan to prove it. It wasn't much of a heat wave, but it had us all panting with our tongues out.

Which is why it was so pleasant to linger on the breezy hillside at the Willhoite's new home. That basement playroom is a wonderful spot as the Air Scouts have discovered since they've sort of taken it over for their meetings even before the paint on the floor is dry.

Pleasant to watch the six-o'clock farmers at their miniature gardens, the neighborhood children at their informal games and the front porches occupied with aproned housewives waiting for the kitchen to cool off before they tackle the dishes.

We can write off another organization for the summer as the County PTA concluded their business for the year, and with an excellent attendance, too, considering it was a holiday night. That phenomenal growth in unit PTA membership comes as no surprise.

Not after writing about the interesting subjects PTA's tackled this past year. However, outside of the Bushkill PTA which has a whole summer of projects lined up and the Paradise PTA which plans to do canoe dressings, and the officers who have to map out next year's programs, that is over, too.

But the weddings are beginning—four already for this week-end.

Listen to Bobby Westbrook daily, Monday through Friday, on "The Party Line" WVPO, 10-15 a.m.

Mrs. Fred Potcher Flies For Visit In Scotland

Mrs. Fred Potcher Jr. and her daughters, Barbara and Diane, will leave on Saturday, June 5, to fly to Scotland. There they will spend two months visiting Mrs. Potcher's mother and family who live in Daily-Biggin, in Ayrshire.

Mrs. Potcher has been in this country eight years and two years ago became a United States citizen. This will be her first trip home since her marriage.

Mr. Potcher was a pilot during World War Two and is a First Lieutenant in the Air Force Reserve. He is co-owner of Penn-Craft Manufacturing Co., makers of wrought iron products.

Other officers elected included Mrs. David Nelson, Paradise, vice president; Mrs. Thomas Bennett, Stroud, secretary; Frank Mooney, Pocono, treasurer.

Among the items scheduled for next year's activities sponsored by the council were a School of Instruction for the officers of all local units in the Council, and a General Education Forum presented by lay citizens with the school boards of the county invited as guests.

Reports were given by the local units, showing an impressive increase in membership during the past year. Two units, Paradise and Mount Pocono, had 100 per cent membership for the past year. Hamilton Township reported a 63 per cent gain in membership during the year; Clearview an 80 per cent increase, and Smithfield a 128 per cent increase.

Mrs. Jack Manchester and Mrs. David Nelson will attend the PTA Summer School at Lock Haven July 5 through 10, and will be the official delegates from the local Council. They announced that they will have room in their car for other PTA members who may wish to attend.

The Fidelity Class of St. John's Lutheran Church met at the home of Mrs. Ethel Meyer, with Mrs. Mildred Renninger assisting as hostess. The meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Sadie Lyons, who also presented the devotions.

The class welcomed two guests, Mrs. Richard Hagmayer, and Mrs. Joseph Ferenc. Games were played with prizes being won by Mrs. Dorothy Rupert. The class welcomed back Mrs. Rupert and Mrs. Stachhouse, who have been on the sick list.

Refreshments of tuna salad rolls and coffee were served to the following: Mrs. Lilyan Buck, Mrs. Margaret Stabenow, Mrs. Mildred Miller, Mrs. Mildred Knapp, Mrs. LaDora Boler, Mrs. Dorothy Rupert, Mrs. Natalie Stachhouse, Mrs. Cora Green, Mrs. Sadie Lyons, Mrs. Joseph Ferenc, Mrs. Richard Hagmayer, and Mrs. Ethel Meyer, and Mildred Renninger, hostesses.

The next meeting will be held June 28, and will be in the form of a covered dish, at the Stroudsburg Playground, at 6 p.m. Each member is asked to bring her own table service.

Tannersville 4-H Club Sees Movie on Work

Victory Dinner For Women Of Evangelical Church

Bangor—Approximately 230 people attended the dinner and program held in the First United Evangelical Church on Tuesday night, May 25, which came about when the women won an attendance record over the men, and the men were in charge of the dinner.

Mrs. Benjamin Albert prepared the food, assisted by the men of the church. The men of Earl Becker's class served the meal. Cecil Honey, organist, entertained before the dinner, and James Hay, of Bethlehem entertained with organ solos during the dinner.

George I. Godshalk was toastmaster, and Rev. B. P. Gieske gave the invocation. Terry Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Miller sang two solos. Selections were presented by the men's chorus, comprised of Earl Becker, Merlin Oyer, George Shook Jr., George Shook Sr., Donald Shook, and George Lakey. Edison Treibler directed and Cecil Honey accompanied.

Barry Becker, Sunday School superintendent, announced the contest had run from February through March and April, with an average attendance of 245. He stated that last year the attendance over the same period had been 206.

Markley Reichard, co-chairman of the affair, spoke and also Earl Becker, who is a Sunday School teacher, lay teacher, and a conference delegate. Reverend John Slack, of Johnson City, N. Y., gave remarks. He is a retired minister and a former minister of the First United Evangelical. Reverend Gieske asked cooperation from the group, and the formal centerpiece was given to Mrs. Gieske.

Birthday Thursday

Mrs. Harold Hite, of Stroudsburg RD2, will celebrate her 29th birthday on Thursday. Her two daughters, Linda Jean and Ruth Ann, will help her celebrate.

Here we are back at work again, and though we've been away only a brief time, there's a lot of "water under the bridge" to quench our thirst for news. Elsie Miller's back from Florida, reporting a wonderful vacation and a real rest; Mardee Wyckoff is wearing dark glasses, after an insect bite while golfing; Bea Gorgy and Laura Fabel are brimming over with tales of their holiday tour through Pennsylvania Dutch country; Mabel Anderson's once again turning out advertising copy after a week with her relatives in Allentown; and our general manager, J. L. Kerlin, reports a marvelous weekend on the Delaware river in his new Arkansas Traveler, miraculously found after being spirited from its moorings. But why should I tell you all this? Why don't you come in and find out for yourself? After all, the good fellowship between customers and personnel, is part of the fun of shopping Wyckoff's, isn't that so? Bring out the brass band and let's welcome back the devoted crab palther to our Tea Room menu. Nothing—not even the mixed fruit salads and grilled chicken sandwiches—can replace the crab in my opinion, and when it's not on the bill of fare, I'm just one-track-minded enough to see nothing at all to order. . . . A visit to our Tea Room is always delightful, particularly on these warm June days when one's very imagination is stirred by mention of iced tea, sherbet, and ice cream. As you know, it is actually the art center of our store, with some of the most beautiful paintings you've ever seen on display there. Right now we're exhibiting a lovely Dutch landscape, in delicate oil colors, presented to Mr. E. H. Wyckoff in Holland by our Travel Bureau tourists.

Saturday, June 5th, is the third annual National Golf Day, and golfers around the country are being asked to match their scores with Ben Hogan in a nationwide tournament that will aid the USO and other charities. If you are interested, call your private course or club and ask for details—and if it's accessories you need, shop Wyckoff's and Sears. Bud Altman has some sure-fire dazzerdles for the men in our lives right now, what with reversible Scotch plaid swim trunks, matching shirts and shorts, et cetera. Mardee and Carrie are prepared to do all right by we women, too, in the dress and sportswear departments. Incidentally, the reference to Bud's department reminds me that it will be a fairly hectic place from here on in, since June 26th is Father's Day and summer business bonanzas about then. . . . One of our visitors last Saturday night was Miss Ruth Jones, of State Teachers College faculty, who made me more than ever regretful that I had missed the opening, Friday night, of Phoebe Conrad's "Little Wax Works." This enchanting gallery is situated on Route 90 at Mountainhome, and Ruth tells me that Phoebe's artistry has completely transformed a former grocery store into fairyland. The walls are covered in red and white stripes combined with green, and the shadowboxes, filled with tiny wax people, magically bring to life many of our most beloved stories and legends. At one end of the room, there are four panels dedicated to June brides, illustrating the time-honored rule of "something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue." These were made originally for Black, Starr and Gorbam, I believe, and displayed in their Fifth Avenue emporium. Dickens is also represented with scenes from "A Christmas Carol," and then there are Hansel and Gretel, Peter Pan, Huck Finn, Wynecen, Blyncen, and Nod, and others. If you ask me, Phoebe Conrad is one of the finest things that ever happened to Monroe County, and her great gift is one which all of us should appreciate, and enjoy, to the full.

RILEY

Sports Editor

Thanks are in order this morning to scorekeepers and managers in both the Blue Mountain and Pocono Mountains Baseball Leagues. Score sheets of the many holiday games were presented to this reporter in fine fashion and in such a manner that all games in both leagues have been covered completely. The cooperation of individuals connected with various teams in these two circuits has never been better. Thanks a million.

Harry Warner, a resident of Reeders during the winter months, is hitting over .300 while holding down first base for the Salem, Oregon, entry in the class "A" Western International League. Harry, former basketball and baseball star at Pocono High, has at least two home runs to his credit. Warner began his professional baseball career with the Stroudsburg Poconos, then a member of the now defunct class "D" North Atlantic League. He is also a basketball player of note.

Mike Palmisano, football star at East Stroudsburg High school, will be athletic director at the East Stroudsburg Playground this summer. Jim Fritz, former star end and punter on the same East Stroudsburg grid machine, is now home on furlough from the Marines. Jim also played one season of football at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College before entering the service. John Bensing, catcher for Stockertown against Pocono A. C. on Monday, graduated from ESSTC last year.

Ray Fleming, one of the best known stock car drivers to appear at Stroudsburg Speedway each Saturday night, was a spectator at the 500-mile grind at Indianapolis on Monday. Harold Snider, manager of Stroudsburg Speedway last summer, also witnessed the biggest of all speed events. Ray Everett, a resident of Stroudsburg and owner of the car that Fleming drives, informed this scribe on Monday that Wally Campbell is building a new motor for the Everitt-Fleming stock car.

John Faddell, former Lake Harmony, Pocono Mountains League, infielder, is now playing shortstop for Drummondville, of the class "C" Provincial League, a farm club of the Philadelphia A's. This is the same team for which Ray Steele, well known in both Monroe and Pike counties, is pitching at the present time. Dick Owens and Byron "Chick" Miller, both former Stroudsburg High stars, are home from their respective colleges. Dick is attending Susquehanna and Miller goes to Utica College. Owens plans to attend summer sessions this year.

Jim "Buck" Rader, another former Lake Harmony diamond star, is reportedly hitting at a .458 clip for Paris, Indiana, of the class "D" Mississippi-Ohio Valley League. Further reports indicate that the former March Chunk American Legion star leads the club in stolen bases and most walks. Dick Nissen, Strattoning pitcher, hurled and batted his club to the Lehigh Valley League baseball championship in the season just completed. Dick wound up with a .414 average, on the strength of 12 hits in 29 trips to the plate.

Nissen's pitching record was seven wins and no defeats, plus a 3-3 deadlock with Northampton. Dick, a southpaw, pitched in 12 games prior to the playoffs, having a record of one win and two defeats in exhibition contests. Dick worked in eight league games or a total of 54 innings. He struck out 98, walked 34, gave up 22 hits and allowed 14 runs.

Greene-Dreher-Sterling Wins Final Baseball Game

Hawley Rally Falls Short Of Goal, 9-7

Newfoundland — Greene-Dreher-Sterling High constructed an early lead and then hung on as Hawley finished strong to gain a 9-7 victory here on the former's home grounds yesterday.

Yesterday's outing was the last of the season for Greene-Dreher and the win enabled the Stags to finish with a record of three victories and the same number of defeats.

Greene-Dreher opened with three runs in the first inning, three more in the third and three in the fourth, while Hawley could account for only one marker in the first.

Big Lead
The Stags entered the sixth frame leading by eight runs but had the advantage cut in half as Tom Klepadlo was touched for four runs.

Hawley scored once more and had the bases loaded with one out in the seventh when Coach Henry "Hank" Arneberg replaced Klepadlo with Carroll Curtis.

Curtis retired the first batter on strikes, walked the next to force in the seventh run and then fanned Hiris to end the game.

Hawley was credited with only two earned runs, as five Greene-Dreher errors accounted for as many scores by the visiting contingent.

The Stags lashed out 10 hits, three by Curtis, while Hawley was held to six.

Hawley won an earlier diamond clash with Greene-Dreher.

Cockell Wins Over Matthews

London (AP)—Britain's Don Cockell switched from a body to a head attack midway of the 10-round fight to outpoint Harry Matthews of Seattle, Wash., last night.

Cockell, who weighed 210½ to Matthews' 180½ pounds, kept alive his hopes for a possible shot at the heavyweight title this fall. It was the Briton's second victory over the American and his ninth straight success since being knocked out by Randy Turpin June 10, 1952, in a British Empire light heavyweight title scrap.

Split Nod
The Briton won a split decision over Matthews last August 7 in Seattle after flooring the American three times in the ninth round.

Cockell was awarded the decision last night by Referee Jack Hart despite three low blows and a stiff warning for hitting with his elbows. The referee is the only official and is prohibited from revealing his score card.

The Briton's main weapon was a flicking left followed by a looping right. Matthews finished the stronger and was awarded the 10th round by a comfortable margin on The Associated Press card.

Cockell, the British heavyweight champion, took the third round by a close margin, the sixth, eighth and ninth. He had Matthews in trouble in the fifth round and again in the eighth.

Roseto Defeats Bath With Triple Play

Bath—Bath went down to defeat at the hands of Roseto here in a Blue Mountain League game on Monday by a score of 5-1.

Roseto jumped off to a 2-0 lead in the very first inning, added two more runs in the sixth for a 4-0 lead before Bath countered its one and only run in the bottom of the sixth.

Roseto came on to add another tally in the ninth.

Good Pitching

Roseto got eight hits off the pitching of Rich Walakovits. The D'Imperio brothers, Basil and Joe, along with Joe Basso led the hitting for Roseto. That, combined with some fine relief hurling by Manager Day "Doc" Schiavone, contributed to Roseto's win.

Schiavone hurled a full game on Sunday and followed that with a six inning relief chore in this game the next day.

Roseto pulled a most unusual triple play occurred in the bottom of the third inning. Konenas walked to start the inning and Bill Jandrositz got a life on George Dallesandro's error. Konenas going to third. With men on first and third, Paul Henning hit a grounder to Dallesandro who threw quickly to second basemen Joe Basso to retire Jandrositz. Basso threw to Charlie Eden at first base to retire the hitter, Henning and Eden whirled and threw to the plate to catcher Joe D'Imperio who put the tag on Konenas attempting to score to complete the triple play.

Page, a 36-year-old former ace Yankee relief pitcher, was put on the waiver list last Friday. None of the 15 other major league clubs claimed him.

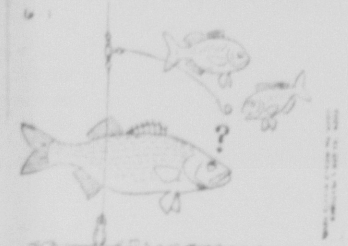

Comeback

Page, who comes from Springdale, Pa., attempted a comeback this year. He reported to the Bucs' spring training camp for a tryout and was signed by the Pirates.

He pitched in seven games this season, winning none and losing none giving up 16 hits in 9 2-3 innings.

Lake Harmony's Late Rally Decisions Kunkletown, 10-7

Lake Harmony—Lake Harmony swept two games and moved into second place in the Pocono Mountains League standings over the Memorial Day weekend. Monday's victory, fourth in five outings, was a 10-7 nod over Kunkletown, here on the winning club's home grounds.

Kunkletown, undefeated prior to the holiday, dropped two weekend games and plunged from first to third place in the standings.

Big Innings

Lake Harmony broke a close game wide open by scoring three runs in the seventh and then increasing a 10-6 advantage with three more tallies in the eighth.

Kunkletown scored by two, in the first, fifth and sixth, to make a fight of it all the way. One Kunkletown run in the top of the ninth failed to turn the tide of battle.

Lake Harmony finished on the long end of the final score despite the fact that Kunkletown had the better of the hitting 15-8.

George "Dutch" Snyder pitched the distance for Lake Harmony, while Woodrow "Woody" Costenbader did the pitching for Kunkletown.

Lake Harmony is now in second place, in back of Reeders.

Lions Pay Tribute To R. D. Smith

STROUDSBURG LIONS at their dinner meeting last night at the Penn-Strood Hotel adopted resolutions of regret and bereavement over the death of the late Russell D. Smith, who for many years, served as secretary of the club. President William Hinton called on Third Vice President Joseph McCluskey, who drew up the resolutions and presented them.

Hinton said that the state convention will be held at Philadelphia on June 6, 7 and 8 and urged that the club be represented by a full delegation.

He also recommended a full attendance at the coming international convention in New York. Emerson Rahn reported on the decorating of the graves of all deceased Lions. Three graves in the Stroudsburg Cemetery were decorated, three in the East Stroudsburg Cemetery and two in Laurelwood.

Cards were prepared to send to three members who are ill.

Critical Housing Designation Refused Coolbaugh Township

Two weeks ago, in a press conference in Mount Pocono, members of the Civil Service fact-finding board related to newsmen that about 700 of Baltimore, Md., depot's 2,700 employees would be moving to Tohyhanna.

COLE'S LETTER added: "It is the view of the local command that the balance of civilian employees necessary to staff this installation at its presently planned level of operations can be recruited locally within reasonable commuting distance, and that the depot is capable of training local recruits to perform the required maintenance and repair jobs."

"In fact," Cole says, "the preponderant number (84 percent) of the present employment has been recruited from communities in Lackawanna, Luzerne and Monroe Counties. A surplus labor force of 25,000 in the Scranton and Wilkes-Barre areas is expected to be more than ample to supply the remaining staffing needs of this depot."

Cole quotes "the local command" as saying that "no serious transportation problems have been encountered by employees of the installation in commuting to the major communities in the area."

"ABSENTEEISM and tardiness," he says, "have been a negligible factor, and despite the reported severity of winters in this area, the local command found it necessary to dismiss workers early only on two occasions during the last winter."

Cole's letter continued: "The immigrant group, which has consisted chiefly of the cadre assigned to initiate operations at the depot, has been very successful in locating satisfactory housing in the area."

"Personnel transferring from the other installations," Cole said, "is expected to encounter no particular difficulties in finding standard family accommodations. Rental accommodations in Scranton are

Detour Signs Removed After Rt. 90 Opens

CRESKO—Route 90—here was closed temporarily yesterday but will open today and remain open, according to Lee B. Marks, construction company owner.

Last night, employees of the State Highway Department finished removing detour signs, throwing the section open to all traffic.

Marks' crew worked until 6 p.m. Saturday attempting to finish the 1,000-foot stretch of new road so Memorial Day week-end traffic would pass.

ONLY A SMALL

section near the Van Dyne property was "tied-in" by quitting time, Marks said.

Traffic, consequently, did not stop at the intersection of the new road and the old road, but continued to travel on the old road.

Marks said the intersection close to the DL&W railroad tracks will probably undergo work today. "But we will not have to block the road," Marks said. He indicated while work is going on there traffic will be sent over the newly graded section west of the station, then back on Route 90 again, a stretch about 300 feet west of the existing road.

YESTERDAY morning, Highway Department crews removed signs on Route 90 at the intersection with Route 174 and 90; and in Canadensis and Buck Hill Falls junction.

Only signs left were those just north of the railroad station here, and at the northern end of the road project. These signs directed motorists over a temporary road east of existing Route 90. Last night they were slated for removal.

Parade, Flag Day Program To Feature Convention Of State Marine Corps League

A PARADE AND Flag Day program will highlight the Marine Corps League's ninth State convention in Stroudsburg this month.

The convention starts June 16, at the Penn-Stroud Hotel, with some 500 State officers and delegates from 90 Marine Corps League detachments expected.

Auxiliary members of the Monroe County detachment, commanded by Donald Dimmick, will register visitors daily from 8 a. m. to 1 p. m.

On June 17 a joint session of league and auxiliary members will be held at 9:45 a. m. Following at 11 a. m. will be a joint memorial service at Court House Square, with Rev. Michael Halley, national chaplain, officiating.

JUNE 18 WILL include business sessions during the day and a Devil Dog schedule at 5:30 p. m. A costume ball and floor show will come later, with Devil Dog initiations at midnight.

Election and installation of officers will be held at 9 a. m. Saturday.

The parade will start at 2 p. m. at East Stroudsburg High School and will proceed to the convention headquarters at the Penn-Stroud.

The convention will wind up with a military ball and annual banquet Saturday night.

The league auxiliary will hold a public initiation of the Fleas, the female equivalent of the Devil Dogs.

Dr. Hauptert To Address Bangor Grade

BANGOR — Dr. Raymond S. Hauptert, president of Moravian College, Bethlehem, will deliver the commencement address here at 8 p. m. Thursday, June 17 at exercises for 136 Bangor High School seniors. His subject will be "Living in Today's World."

Alice Sandercock and Robert Miller, organizers, will play as the program opens. Rodney Miller, class president will offer invocation. Donald B. Keat, superintendent of schools, will present awards.

Trevor Williams, high school principal, will introduce the class with Merle Mabius, school board president, awarding diplomas.

COMMENCEMENT addresses by honor students will highlight the exercises. Students are John Z. Rowe, valedictorian, and Barbara Ann Smith, salutatorian, college preparatory course; Joan Ann Leopold, valedictorian, and Dolores E. Eyer, salutatorian, business administration course.

A vocal quartet comprising Charles LaBar, Robert A. Avery, Paul Allen Peters and Russell H. Roper will sing. Class officers include Miller, president; Nancy Hughes, vice president; Carolyn K. LaBar, secretary; Norma Elaine Bray, treasurer. Mrs. Donald B. Rockwell is adviser.

CLASS DAY exercises have been scheduled for 2 p. m. Tuesday, June 15. Robert Miller, organist, will provide music. President Miller will present the class gift to the school, with Mabius accepting.

Judge Rhodes Files Report On Expenses

HARRISBURG (AP)—Judge Chester H. Rhodes, Democratic incumbent for the State Superior Court, yesterday became the first candidate in the May 18 primary to file expenses with the state elections bureau.

Rhodes, a candidate for both the Democratic and Republican nominations for re-election, filed expenses of less than $150.

Judge Rhodes was renominated on the Democratic ticket but lost his bid for the GOP nomination.

Under state law a candidate is not required to itemize receipts and expenditures if the total is less than $150.

Expenses must be filed within 30 days of the election.

Gordon F. Chamberlin, Paxinos RD1, Northumberland County, a Republican candidate for governor, also filed expenses of less than $150. Chamberlin tallied about 60,000 votes for the Republican nomination for governor against Lt. Gov. Lloyd Wood's near 700,000 and Thomas S. Stephenson's more than 176,000.

song, being selected by Russell Roper, Linda Fuls and Nancy Bisher.

REV. DR. J. Frederick Stolte, pastor of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church for 30 years, and currently pastor emeritus following his retirement and farewell sermon Sunday morning, will give the main sermon at luncheon services Sunday, June 13 at 7 p. m.

Carolyn LaBar will play four organ selections, and team with Robert Miller for an organ-piano duet. Linda Fuls will offer a vocal solo accompanied by Miss LaBar. Dr. Stolte's message will be "The Supreme Incentive for a Successful Life."

Friday night, June 11, seniors will hold their annual banquet at Split Rock Lodge, Lake Harmony.
